

WOUND CARE

The Center for Wound Healing at RWJ provides a multidisciplinary physician panel that utilizes the most advanced technologies and treatments for the care and management of chronic, non-healing wounds.

Our Center provides:

- State-of-the-art Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy
- Individualized treatment plans
- Case management for complex patients
- Inpatient consultation services

The Center for Wound Healing at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital (RWJ)

48 French Street
New Brunswick, NJ 08901
732-418-8084 (main number)
732-418-8420 (fax)

Co-Medical Directors:

Hesham Ahmed, MD

*Assistant Professor of Surgery
Robert Wood Johnson Medical School
Acute Care Surgeon
Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital
Hyperbaric and Under Sea Medicine Certified*

Richard Schachter, DPM

*Podiatric Surgeon
Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital
Hyperbaric and Under Sea Medicine Certified*

HYPERBARIC OXYGEN THERAPY

MEDICARE APPROVED INDICATIONS FOR HYPERBARIC OXYGEN THERAPY

Hyperbaric oxygen may be used as an important adjunctive therapy for a number of approved indications, including but not limited to the following:

- Diabetic wound of the lower extremity, Non healing wagner grade III wound or higher
- Chronic refractory osteomyelitis
- Osteoradionecrosis
- Soft tissue radionecrosis
- Comprised skin grafts and flaps
- Acute peripheral arterial insufficiency
- Progressive necrotizing infections
- Gas embolism