

GYNECOLOGIC ONCOLOGY PROGRAM

ABOUT THE GYNECOLOGIC ONCOLOGY PROGRAM

The gynecologic oncology program, a partnership of Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital and Rutgers Cancer Institute of New Jersey, is entering its second decade of care. One of the largest gynecologic oncology groups in the state, comprised of an experienced team of physicians who provide a full-range of treatments utilizing state-of-the-art techniques.

Darlene Gibbon, MD
Chief, Division of Gynecologic Oncology
Rutgers Cancer Institute of New Jersey

gibbonda@cinj.rutgers.edu

Mira Hellmann, MD

Sara S. Isani, MD

Aliza Leiser, MD

Lorna Rodriguez, MD, PhD

Allison R. Wagreich, MD

RWJ ROBERT WOOD JOHNSON
UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL
NEW BRUNSWICK • SOMERSET

RUTGERS
Cancer Institute
of New Jersey

 Commission on Cancer®
ACCREDITED PROGRAM

NEW BRUNSWICK INTAKE OFFICE: 732-235-8900

GYNECOLOGIC ONCOLOGY PROGRAM

CONDITIONS TREATED

- Ovarian cancer
- Fallopian tube cancer
- Primary peritoneal cancer
- Endometrial cancer
- Cervical cancer
- Uterine cancer
- Vulvar cancer
- Gestational trophoblastic disease
- Vulvar, vaginal or cervical dysplasia
- Complex benign surgical conditions

NEW BRUNSWICK • SOMERSET

RUTGERS

Cancer Institute
of New Jersey

UNIQUE CAPABILITIES

- Full spectrum of care provided by the program and managed by the gynecologic oncology physician, including surgery, radiation and chemotherapy.
- Collaborative program with radiation oncology to offer a leading expert in the field in brachytherapy.
- Utilize robotic techniques when appropriate providing patients faster recovery times.
- Minimally-invasive capabilities, including single port approach for robotics.
- Collaborative relationships with community physicians.
- Experienced in same-day send home for minimally invasive hysterectomy patients when appropriate.
- Access to the latest in clinical trials and translational research.
- Program offers annual courses for CME's.
- Precision Medicine - using state-of-the-art analysis to customize individualized treatment plans and cancer therapies for patients with gynecologic malignancies.
- Program features a unique gynecologic oncologist board-certified in palliative medicine and hospice care.

SOMERSET INTAKE OFFICE: 908-243-8660